Summary_

UI/UX Designer with a proven ability to create successful SaaS products. I've spent the last 5 years helping companies create SaaS products that users love to use and businesses profit from, achieving a 25% increase in engagement rates and maintaining perfect project delivery timelines across diverse client portfolios.

Remote collaboration is second nature to me. I've built my career working with distributed teams, maintaining a professional workspace that ensures consistent availability during US business hours. I pride myself on being the designer who asks the right questions, delivers on promises, and makes everyone's job a little easier.
